A Will to Care

People who care as much as we do

Continuing to care through a gift in your will

Your will is your last chance to decide how your Estate is distributed following your death. Estate is the legal term for possessions, property and money. You need to look after those you love and who depend on your care in your will. If you die without a Will the Government will distribute your Estate according to its formula.

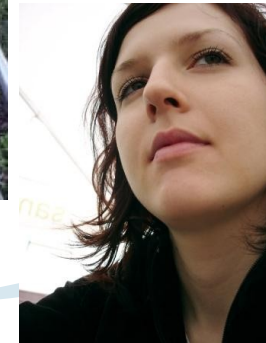

You might also want to use your will to be remembered as caring for the wider community through a gift to Mercy Services.

For your will to be legally binding it must be:

- ✓ In writing (handwritten, typed or printed);
- ✓ Signed by you (the testator); and
- ✓ Signed by two witnesses who are present when you sign your Will, and who are not beneficiaries.

If you already have a Will you need to see your solicitor, or legal advisor, to formally add Mercy Services to the Will.

You might want to choose one of the following five options to assist Mercy Services through your will.

Option1

I give to Mercy Services

of the residue of my Estate for its general purposes, free of (or after payment of) all duties and taxes payable upon or in consequence of my death. I declare that a receipt issued by Mercy Services shall be a sufficient discharge to my Trustees.
